

Franco-Japanese Days on Combinatorics and Optimization 2017 - In Honour of Michel Deza -

Tokyo Campus, University of Tsukuba
Otsuka, Bunkyo-ku, Tokyo, Japan

December 4, 5, 2017

This will be a workshop-style international meeting where talks in different aspects of Combinatorics (including Algorithms and Combinatorial Optimization, various subjects in Graphs and Computational Geometry) will be given by leading French, Japanese and others researchers.

The conference will be held in honour of the late Prof. Michel Deza (Apr. 27, 1939 - Nov. 23, 2016), who contributed to the construction of a scientific network in combinatorics especially between France and Japan.

1st Franco-Japanese Days (1988)
@Maison Franco-Japonaise, Tokyo.

Invited Speakers Include:

David Avis	( Kyoto Univ. and McGill Univ.,	Canada )
Mathieu Dutour	( Rudjer Boskovic Inst.,	Croatia )
Reinhardt Euler	( Univ. of Brest,	France )
Komei Fukuda	( ETH Zurich,	Switzerland )
Roland Grappe	( Univ. Grenoble-Alpes and Univ. Paris 13,	France )
Kazuo Murota	( Tokyo Metropolitan Univ.,	Japan )

Organizing Committee:

R. Euler, K. Fukuda, Y. Izunaga, T. Matsui, M. Namiki, Y. Saruwatari (Chair), A. Tamura

For more information:

Yasufumi Saruwatari, Faculty of Business Sciences, University of Tsukuba

E-mail: saru@gssm.otsuka.tsukuba.ac.jp

Supported by Faculty of Business Sciences, University of Tsukuba, 2017.